How to Use

Professional skin retouching in 3 clicks

- 1 Open your portrait photo in Photoshop
- 2 Use Select > Subject to select the person
Or make a manual selection of the skin area
- 3 Open the RetouchLab panel (Plugins > RetouchLab -- Skin Pro)
- 4 Adjust sliders if desired (optional -- defaults work great):

Smoothing (10-40)	Controls skin smoothing intensity	Default: 20
Texture Amount (10-80%)	How much new texture to add back	Default: 35%
Detail Recovery (10-60%)	Recovers original skin detail	Default: 30%
Tone Evening (10-60%)	Evens out skin tone patches	Default: 30%

- 5 Click "Run Retouch"
- 6 The plugin creates a layer group with a black mask
- 7 Select a soft white brush and paint on the skin areas
- 8 Avoid painting over eyes, lips, eyebrows, and hair

Tip: Paint only on skin. The black mask gives you full control over which areas get retouched.

Pro Tips

Get the most out of RetouchLab

- Start with default settings -- they work perfectly for most portraits
- Use a soft brush at 100% opacity when painting the mask
- If the effect is too strong, reduce the layer group opacity
- Works best on high-resolution photos (3000px+ width)
- The entire retouch can be undone with a single Ctrl/Cmd+Z
- Zoom in to 100% when painting details around the nose and forehead
- For body skin, increase Smoothing to 30-35 for smoother results
- Process one person at a time for best selection accuracy
